Commander's Message

Pete MacLeod

VFW Post 7589 has stepped up to the plate and decided to go after the goal of 100 percent membership by late April! Chair Joel Chase is leading a Membership Committee that has already eaten into that 56 member deficit we talked about last month. Quartermaster Rick Raskin says that figure is now in the 30's and the committee has only been on the job for about two weeks. We will make it!

Other members of the committee are Comrades Ed Fishpaw and Lou Filippone. Rick and I also serve on the committee. We are planning a weekend recruiting drive at the busy Centreville Giant store for later this month (announcements will be coming soon). So far phone calling and emailing has netted us a number of members who have decided to renew their membership dues. It is this leaking out the "backdoor" that has been hurting VFW membership around the country. The committee continues to work and if you would like to join and help, contact Joel Chase or call me anytime at 703 220-4545.

As we said last month: It is not easy. It is hard work and discouraging at times. But there is nothing sweeter than having a lapsed comrade ask you how he or she goes about catching up on their dues. Or, convincing a veteran to join the VFW for the first time!

The first week in March sees a VFW "army" overrunning Capitol Hill and the offices of members of the U.S. House and Senate with concerns about budget policies that are hurting veterans and also hurting the readiness of the U.S. military. Yes, it is the annual VFW National Legislative Conference that is centered in Crystal City but reaches out to the U.S. Congress with concerns of the nation's veterans.

The main concern this year, as has been the case for the past several years, is called "sequestration." This goes back to 2011 when the Budget Control Act set budget caps to reduce the nation's spending by $1.2 trillion over nine years. The reductions were to be equally shared by defense related and non-defense related agencies. Since the caps were based on 2010 spending and were not based on projected needs of the agencies, they no longer reflect reality but they are still there!

I have been a participant in these "Days on the Hill" since 2012. In most of the meetings with Representatives and Senators, this point about sequestration leads the discussion. Everyone Republican, Democrat and Independent, agree it is a terrible situation, and wring their hands and shake their heads, but no promises are made and we continue on making sharp and deep cuts every year.

The result of all this is that these arbitrary budget caps have significantly hurt the nation's military and have also eaten into programs for veterans. No member of either major party has yet introduced legislation to end sequestration. It just goes on and on. The VFW, in its position papers for this year's Legislative Conference, labels sequestration, "the most significant readiness and national security threat of the 21st century."

Will anything change now that a Republican president sits in the White House for the first time since sequestration began in 2011? It won't take us long to find out. But if you have time, go back and read the "Commander's Message" in the Post 7589 Newsletter of August, 2016 and read what Donald Trump promised the 2016 VFW Convention he would do for veterans and the nation's military. Another thing to remember is that President Trump's Republican Party controls both Houses of Congress. If sequestration is going to end, the time to take action is now!

Youth News and Notes

My wife, Auxiliary member Jean MacLeod, and myself were invited to the recent "Blue and Gold" banquet of Cub Scout Pack 1355, based at the Bennett School in Manassas. The venue was the spacious Prince William County Police Association Hall on Independent Hill Drive. What a show! Power Point images of Cub Scout events flashed on the large screen as speakers addressed the crowd and a delicious meal was served.

Pack 1355 has been a partner with VFW Post 7589 and the Auxiliary in projects over the past several years with Cub Master William Sedmak leading the show. He and his wife Aileen have been key in helping us place flags at the graves of veterans in Manassas Cemetery on Memorial Day and Veteran's Day. The ranks of Scouts and their leaders at these two holiday projects keeps growing. Pack 1355 has also participated in a number of flag retirements and flag educations with Post 7589 and the Auxiliary.

Jean and I sat at a table with a leader of the area "Friends of Scouting" whose job it is to raise money for various ongoing Scouting activities in the Prince William area. He said that the past few years have seen the ranks of Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts increase in the Manassas area. While we sat eating supper, at least five people approached this man with checks. So, despite some controversies nationally, scouting seems alive and well locally.

But beyond the financial and membership situation, what was most impressive about this celebration was the number of young adult leaders involved with the Cub Scouts. Several women have leadership positions in Pack 1355 and the leaders, both male and female, are dedicated to the Scout ideals and goals. Sitting there you can see that the Scouts are challenged. They are not "given" those badges, they have to earn them. They are also encouraged to take leadership positions! Many Boy Scouts go back and help the Cub Scouts. As a number of Cub Scouts "crossed the bridge" to become Boy Scouts at the banquet, the older boys shook their hands and helped them arrange their new uniforms. Anytime you can get this many young people doing positive things, it is a very good situation!

Comrade Kelly William's wife Donna and son Marshall. Donna works with the Boy Scouts and Marshall, a Boy Scout with Troop 670, helped Cub Scouts in Pack 1355 the past year.

William Sedmak passed the leadership of assemblies interacted with members of Pack 1355 over to Brian Albers. Will's son is moving on to Boy Scout Troop 670 at Grace United Methodist Church. We will miss him and his wife as leaders of Pack 1355, but we will continue to work to do more and more projects with Scouts in the Manassas area.

District 8 VFW/Auxiliary Citizenship Teacher judging will take place at 1:00 pm on Sunday, March 5 at the Post. Any member of the Post or Auxiliary can take part in the judging. Post/Auxiliary will have two candidates for "District Teacher of the Year."

Please be at the March 6 Post General Membership meeting at 7:00 pm when we honor this year's Post/Auxiliary "Teachers of the Year." In the Grade K-5 category this year's first place award recipient is Megan McNulty, 5th grade language arts teacher at Mayfield Intermediate School in Manassas. Ms. McNulty was nominated by her school Principal Kara Mills who wrote, "Megan ignites in students a passion for learning." Ms. McNulty has also been the woman behind the very successful Veteran's Week programs at Mayfield. This past November more than 1200 Mayfield students at two

Post 7589 and watched a movie about the Vietnam War. If I was to describe the event in one word it would be: "Respect."

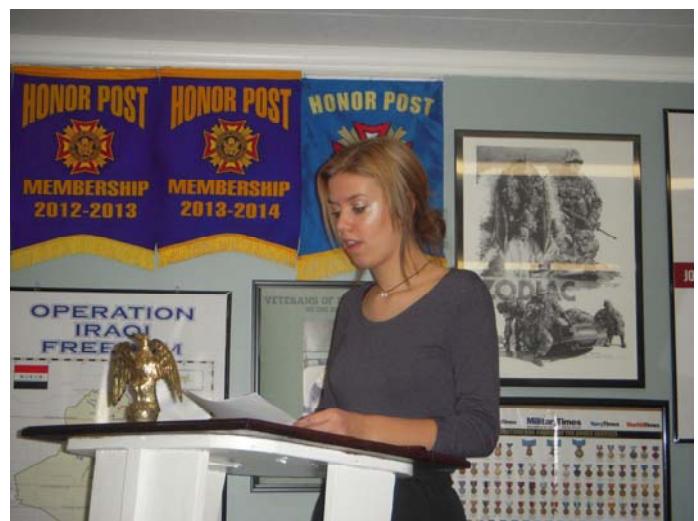

The Post/Auxiliary "Teacher of the Year" in the Grade 6-8 category is Ms. Erin Merrill, a 7th and 8th grade social studies teacher at Pennington School in Manassas. She was nominated by fellow teacher Sara Bosse who wrote, "Ms. Merrill makes being an active and patriotic citizen a priority for all of our students and includes simulations and real life actions in her social studies classes." Ms. Merrill also has worked with the U.S. Marine Corps Museum to bring in veterans and talk about America's role in the wars of the 20th Century. She also has her students do a research project where they design a new monument or memorial in honor of a U.S. event in the post World War II era.

Please come, greet and congratulate these two teachers at 7:00 pm on March 6 at the Post.

Auxiliary President

We would like to welcome the newest members to 7589 Auxiliary: a transfer, Ms. Connie Mayhugh, a rejoin, Ms. Jen Germain, and three new members; Ms. Shaquana Palmer, Mr. Bryan Corkhill & Mr. Thomas Corkhill. Welcome all of you to our family of this great organization.

As of August 2015, the Auxiliary had their name changed to the VFW Auxiliary and therefore National Headquarters has given the Auxiliaries 5 years to change everything that had "Ladies Auxiliary" to the new name. On behalf of the members of this Auxiliary, I would like to say "THANK YOU" to the Post and their members for assisting our Auxiliary with the purchase of our new Banner. I also want to say "THANK YOU" to Ms. Cindy McIntyre for donating the remaining amount in memory of her parents, Joe & Nancy Dazzo. This was a total surprise to the members of the Auxiliary and we appreciate the assistance. There aren't enough words to express our gratitude for such a wonderful gift. Thank you so very much.

The National President Colette Bishop will be making her official visit to Virginia on March 8-10 in the Richmond area. The planning committee has several events planned for her. If you wish to attend, please let me know and I will pass your request forward.

As in years past, the Auxiliary is working on the Young American Creative Patriotic Art Contest for the high school students. The deadline for this contest is March 31, 2017. We have been honored to have one of our entries from last year's contest place 2nd in the Department. If you know of any high school or home schooled students who would like to participate in this contest, please let any Auxiliary member know or you can contact me at 703/361-8950 or mcorkhill@comcast.net.

Next month is election for new Auxiliary Officers for the 2017-2018 year. Please consider taking an office so we can continue to support our veterans. The installation for the new Officers will take place at our May meeting. The 8th District Convention will be April 23rd at Culpeper Post 2524. Lunch will be served at noon with the joint meeting at 1pm. On the agenda will be elections of the District Officers for the 2017-2018 Auxiliary year. Also, this is the year that our own National Sr. Vice President Dee Guillory will become National President. I'm sure we will enjoy the coming year. There will be a lot of interesting events planned.

We are planning our annual spring Yard Sale on May 6, 2017 from 7am-2pm. Set up time will take place on Friday night, May 5th from 4-8pm. If you plan to do your spring cleaning and want to clear out your unwanted items, please consider donating them our way. We could really use them. Thank you in advance for all your support.

I want to thank everyone for assisting us with our coupon project. Since July, we have collected over $11,500.00 for our Veterans overseas. For your information, there is an extension of six months to the expiration date on the coupons. Another reminder is our VFW National Home for Children and their Life Membership of $35.00. This money assists them with the work at the National Home. Thank you for supporting them and the families at the National Home.

For all individuals who lost loved ones, and for any individual or family member who is ill or hospitalized, please keep them in your prayers. Just a short note, our Treasurer, Elanor Doczi's husband is going through a difficult time so please keep the family in your prayers as well.

Respectfully,

Mary Corkhill
Auxiliary President

W-2 and Tax and Email Phishing Scams

During the 2016 tax season, the IRS has seen an approximate 400% surge in phishing and malware incidents. The surge in email, phishing, and malware schemes were designed to trick taxpayers, or other employee personnel, into providing personal information that could result in identity theft. According to IRS Commissioner, John Koskinen, "This is one of the most dangerous email phishing scams we've seen in a long time. It can result in the large-scale theft of sensitive data that criminals can use to commit various crimes, including filing fraudulent tax returns."

As with other suspicious emails, people should avoid opening surprise emails or clicking on internet links claiming to be from the IRS, which suggest big tax refunds, tax bills or which request personal information. According to the IRS Consumer Alerts web site, the IRS does not initiate contact with taxpayers by email, text message, or social media channels to request personal or financial information. In addition, IRS does not threaten taxpayers with lawsuits, imprisonment or other enforcement action.

Comrade Paul Chase participates in honoring Unknown Revolutionary War Soldier

Honoring veterans can come in many different ways. Our Nation's first veterans fought for our independence from the shackles of Britain in the American Revolution. The Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) and Daughters of the Revolution (DAR) are direct descendants of patriots who fought or supported the Revolution. These patriotic organizations help keep the public aware of the cherished valor of our patriot ancestors.

Shown here are Compatriot William Schwetke (Vietnam Veteran, Commander of the Virginia State SAR Color Guard and former President of the Culpeper Minutemen) with Compatriot Paul Chase (Vietnam Veteran, thirty year life member of the VFW, Post 7589 Adjutant and Historian and member of the Colonel William Grayson Chapter of the SAR) with two members of the DAR.

On February 20, 2017 they participated in a formal wreath laying ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Revolutionary Soldier in the cemetery of the Old Presbyterian Meeting House in Alexandria, VA. Following the ceremony members of the SAR and DAR participated in the annual Alexandria Virginia George Washington Birthday Parade witnessed by tens of thousands of cheering citizens.

Stop that Island! The remarkable story of HNLMS Abraham Crijnssen

Sometimes in life, the guy with the so-crazy-it-just-might-work ideas hits one out of the park and saves the day. This is what happened in 1942 aboard the HNLMS Abraham Crijnssen, the last Dutch warship standing after the Battle of the Java Sea.

Originally planning to escape to Australia with three other warships, the then-stranded minesweeper had to make the voyage alone and unprotected. The slow-moving vessel could only get up to about 15 knots and had very few guns, boasting only a single 3-inch gun and two Oerlikon 20 mm canons making it a sitting duck for the Japanese bombers that circled above.

Knowing their only chance of survival was to make it to the Allies Down Under, the Crijnssen's 45 crew members frantically brainstormed ways to make the retreat undetected. The winning idea? Turn the ship into an island.

You can almost hear crazy-idea guy anticipating his shipmates' reluctance: Now guys, just hear me out. But lucky for him, the Abraham Crijnssen was strapped for time, resources and alternative means of escape, automatically making the island idea the best idea. Now it was time to put the plan into action.

The crew went ashore to nearby islands and cut down as many trees as they could lug back onto the deck. Then the timber was arranged to look like a jungle canopy, covering as much square footage as possible. Any leftover parts of the ship were painted to look like rocks and cliff faces these guys weren't messing around.

Now, a camouflaged ship in deep trouble is better than a completely exposed ship. But there was still the problem of the Japanese noticing a mysterious moving island and wondering what would happen if they shot at it. Because of this, the crew figured the best means of convincing the Axis powers that they were an island was to truly be an island: by not moving at all during daylight hours.

While the sun was up they would anchor the ship near other islands, then cover as much ocean as they could once night fell praying the Japanese wouldn't notice a disappearing and reappearing island amongst the nearly 18,000 existing islands in Indonesia. And, as luck would have it, they didn't.

The Crijnssen managed to go undetected by Japanese planes and avoid the destroyer that sank the other Dutch warships, surviving the eight-day journey to Australia and reuniting with Allied forces.

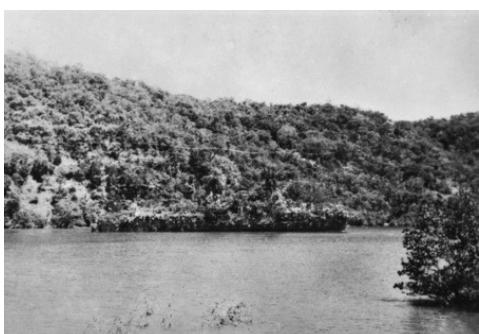

After the war, Abraham Crijnssen operated on anti-revolution patrols in the East Indies, before returning to the Netherlands and being converted into a boom defence ship in 1956. Removed from service in 1960, the vessel was donated to the Netherlands Sea Cadet Corps for training purposes. In 1995, Abraham Crijnssen was acquired by the Dutch Navy Museum for preservation as a museum ship.
